Yakushmanum Hybrids

Rhododendron yakushmanum is a remarkable species only found growing on the windswept mountain peaks of Yakushima Island, Japan. It forms a compact, dome shaped shrub up to 1.3m. high with silvery new growth and bell-shaped flowers, rose-pink in bud which open pale pink and fade to white. The leaves are glossy green above and have dense brown indumentum beneath.

It is the parent of many new hybrids of various colours, some of which are listed below.

Indumentum is a naturally occurring, attractive, woolly or hairy covering on the leaves of some Rhododendrons. It can be on the upper or lower surface of the leaves and sometimes on both. Colours range from silvery-white to cinnamon-brown.
